CONTENTS

Number 1, March, 1942

Editorial: The Change in Editorship and the New Program 1
Five Years of the Journal of Parapsychology
Dorothy H. Pope and J. G. Pratt 5
An ESP Test with Drawings ..... C. E. Stuart 20
A Check on Salience Relations in ESP Data
J. G. Pratt, Betty M. Humphrey, and J. B. Rhine 44
A Transoceanic ESP Experiment ..... J. B. Rhine and Betty M. Humphrey 52
Glossary 75

Number 2, June, 1942

Editorial: Whose Field Is Parapsychology? 79
Unusual Types of Persons Tested for ESP
I. A Professional Medium ..... William R. Birge and J. B. Rhine 85
Atmospheric Pressure and ESP Score Averages ..... E. P. Gibson and C. E. Stuart 95
The Nature of Extra-Sensory Perception ..... H. F. Saltmarsh 101
Evidence of Precognition in the Covariation of Salience Ratios ..... J. B. Rhine 111
Book Review 144
Letters and Notes 147
Glossary 155

Number 3, September, 1942

Editorial: Hypnotism, "Graduate" of Parapsychology 159
Exceptional Scores in ESP Tests and the Conditions
I. The Case of Lillian ..... Margaret Pegram Reeves and J. B. Rhine 164
The ESP Controversy ..... Dorothy H. Pope and J. G. Pratt 174
A Confirmatory Study of Salience in Precognition Tests
Betty M. Humphrey and J. B. Rhine 190
A Second Study of the Effect of Tempo Rates of Matching
Charles E. Stuart and Burke M. Smith 220
Glossary 232

Number 4, December, 1942

Editorial: Progress of Parapsychology as a University Study 237
An Experiment in Precognition Using Dice ..... J. L. Woodruff and J. B. Rhine 243
Some of the Convergences Which Initiated Parapsychology ..... Gerald Heard 263
The Role Mathematics Has Played in ESP Research
Lt. J. A. Greenwood, U.S.N.R. 268
A Single Subject in a Variety of ESP Test Conditions
William Russell, U. S. Army, and J. B. Rhine 284
Glossary 312